Adam Friscia is an executive manager of business development and government relations at Saxton & Stump, working with the firm's Regulatory and Government Affairs Group, environmental attorneys and other attorneys involved in targeted business development efforts at the firm. He joined Saxton & Stump after more than three years as a member executive at the PA Chamber of Business and Industry. At the chamber, he developed strategic relationships with high-level clients, promoted membership, and worked with business leaders to achieve their public policy goals. He also moderated educational conferences, developed content, and produced webinars for the chamber's online platforms. He has significant experience building relationships with top executives and businesses in Pennsylvania.

Prior to his work at the chamber, Adam spent more than 15 years in retail management, generating sales of $26 million per year, hitting his sales goal six years in a row and leading a staff of 150 employees.

In 2021, Adam received his master's degree in public administration from Shippensburg University, where three years prior he graduated summa cum laude with his degree in political science. He served on the Shippensburg University Alumni Board of Directors from 2022-2026. His strong network reach includes being a member of groups such as the Association of Latino Professionals for America.
