Jillian Tice serves as the affiliate marketing manager at Saxton & Stump, where she oversees the strategic marketing initiatives for the firm's growing portfolio of affiliate companies, both internally and externally. With more than a decade of experience spanning marketing, business strategy, and project management, she brings a comprehensive approach to driving organizational growth.

Previously, Jillian held the role of business analyst at a national advertising publication, where she successfully managed key revenue-generating projects, facilitated cross-departmental collaboration, and streamlined business operations. Her professional background also includes tenure at a global leader in healthcare information and software solutions, where she spearheaded the launch of its mobile app program and led website development efforts.

Jillian holds a Bachelor of Science in business administration with a minor in communications from Elizabethtown College. She is a certified Scrum Product Owner and Pragmatic Institute Level III Product Marketing Specialist.
