Michael R. DePaul Jr. is the Associate Director of Financial Planning & Analysis at Saxton & Stump, collaborating with the firm's executive leadership and finance team on strategic projects and supporting the growth of the firm's affiliate companies. Mike has nearly four decades of experience in finance and tax, working with both small businesses and larger clients, making his expertise ideal for working with the firm's growing affiliates. He was most recently a partner and tax director at RKL LLP, where he handled a diverse range of client matters involving tax and estate planning. He has also worked for large consulting firms, including Deloitte, Ernst & Young, and Baker Tilley (Beard Miller).

In addition to his tax work, Mike was an adjunct professor at the Kutztown University College of Business, Albright College, and Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law. He earned his law degree at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law and his undergraduate degree in economics and business at Lafayette College.
