Saxton & Stump analyst Samuel Morris honored on City & State PA's "40 Under 40" list

FIRM NEWSPRESS RELEASE

JUNE 24, 2025

LANCASTER, Pa., June 24, 2025 - Saxton & Stump is pleased to announce that Samuel Morris, a legislative and policy analyst with the firm, has been named to City & State PA's prestigious annual "40 Under 40" list. Morris is a member of the firm's Regulatory and Government Affairs Group and brings valuable experience from his time working for the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.

“I’m honored to be recognized by City & State PA alongside such talented professionals across the state,” Morris said. “My work analyzing the complex activities within the Pennsylvania state government cuts through the noise for our clients in Harrisburg, narrowing in on the issues of most importance to them, and ultimately allowing for the most effective advocacy strategies and representation that drives informed policy decisions.”

City & State PA is a leading news organization covering Pennsylvania’s state and local government, politics, and public policy. The “40 Under 40” list honors up-and-coming Pennsylvanians under the age of 40 who have made significant contributions to their fields and are poised to achieve even greater success in the future.

At Saxton & Stump, Morris conducts in-depth research for the firm, tracks state legislative activities, and provides actionable guidance to support government affairs clients. He also brings a wealth of experience in communications and policy management from his time assisting constituents with state and local government issues. He graduated from Shippensburg University with both his master’s degree in applied history and his undergraduate degree in history.

“Sam has exceptional analytical skills and his deep understanding of government operations have made a significant impact on our team,” said Kathleen Duffy Bruder, the chair of the Saxton & Stump Regulatory and Government Affairs Group. “His ability to quickly navigate complex legislative matters and provide strategic insights is invaluable to our clients and makes him a deserving recipient of this recognition. We are thrilled to help celebrate Sam and his great work.”
