Jannifer Walters is a paralegal in Saxton & Stump's Intellectual Property and Intellectual Property Litigation groups, based in the firm's Lehigh Valley office. She supports attorneys throughout all phases of patent and trademark prosecution, helping ensure matters are managed efficiently, accurately, and in alignment with clients' business objectives. Jenn plays a key role in maintaining compliance with critical deadlines and procedural requirements, providing the high-quality service clients expect when protecting and enforcing their intellectual property rights.

She has also worked in docket administration and has been a notary public since 2015.

Jenn received her associate's degree in applied science from Lehigh Carbon Community College and later completed the school's American Bar Association (ABA) accredited paralegal program, providing a strong foundation for supporting sophisticated intellectual property matters.
