Saxton & Stump Continues to Grow, Adds Appellate and Post-Trial Advocacy Practice Group

FIRM NEWSPRESS RELEASE

NOVEMBER 11, 2016

Lancaster County, PA, November 11, 2016 - Saxton & Stump has announced the establishment of an Appellate and Post-Trial Advocacy practice group. The group is led by Matthew W. Rappleye, Shareholder, and includes attorneys Collin T. Keyser, Luke T. Weber, Harlan W. Glasser and Ashley B. Nichols, all former law clerks to state and federal judges, including judges of the appellate courts. The Appellate and Post-Trial Advocacy group handles all aspects of the post-trial and appellate process in all Pennsylvania state and federal appellate courts. A list of the firm's recent appellate results can be found on Saxton & Stump's website.

"We have many lawyers who have handled cases on appeal for clients throughout the state. This formalizes our commitment to continue to assist health care clients with legal and strategic issues following an unfortunate adverse result. Continuing to create positive appellate rulings is critical to our clients' success," said James W. Saxton, CEO.

Based in Pennsylvania, Saxton & Stump, LLC is a legal and consulting firm focused on representing and supporting health care professionals and other businesses. The firm represents their clients in litigation and provides risk mitigation, patient safety and other health care legal and consulting services. This includes representation in medical staff and professional board matters, captive and insurance issues, as well as mediation services in health care reimbursement and ACO matters. In addition to a team of lawyers and paralegals, the firm employs physicians, nurses, psychologists, physician reimbursement specialists and health policy thought leaders.
