Certified Professional in Healthcare Risk Management

Maryland Property & Casualty Producer license

Jenna Schill is an accomplished healthcare risk management professional with more than a decade of experience in implementing risk management strategies for a variety of businesses, including placement of insurance policies, development of loss control and mitigation plans, educational initiatives and related preemptive measures. She has worked with medical professionals and their corporate entities to assess professional liability, property, casualty and executive risks, and to recommend appropriate levels and types of insurance coverage. She has also worked with businesses to provide merger and acquisition due diligence and evaluation of transactional risk. Jenna is a Certified Professional in Healthcare Risk Management.

Prior to joining Saxton & Stump, Jenna was the Corporate Insurance Director for a nationwide radiology practice group. Previously, she worked as a Senior Risk Manager for a large university health system where she proactively identified risks for hospital executive review, and implemented data-driven education and training activities on loss prevention and control strategies. She also led the commercial insurance program. Jenna started her career as an Underwriter at a wholesale insurance broker, and moved through progressively more complex and responsible management positions. She has worked with specialty insurance coverages, as well as comprehensive general business offerings.

Jenna is a graduate of the Temple University Fox School of Business with a Bachelor of Business Administration in Risk Management and Insurance, awarded magna cum laude.

She is the past Secretary and currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Risk and Insurance Management Society Chesapeake Chapter. She is also active in the American Society for Healthcare Risk Management and its local chapter, Maryland-DC Society for Healthcare Risk Management.
