

Litigation

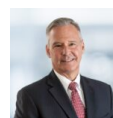

Our trial attorneys are successful problem-solvers backed by decades of significant courtroom experience as former judges, prosecutors, high-profile trial lawyers and investigators. With more than 65 litigators with dedicated experience in major industries, our trial team aggressively defends or pursues the interests of a wide range of organizations and professionals, including national and international companies, healthcare systems, physicians, high-net-worth individuals, insurance companies, utility companies, financial institutions, governmental entities and many other types of businesses and nonprofits.

Well-known for getting favorable results when the stakes are high, our trial attorneys have handled more than 500 state and federal trials and they are well-equipped to provide early risk assessment and sound trial strategy. We focus our approach on our client's goals, tailoring our advice to help them achieve a favorable outcome whether that means pursuing litigation, mediation or settlements. We understand the needs of businesses and individuals and have experience navigating even difficult circumstances on behalf of our clients.
