SAXTON & STUMP

As a progressive law firm, we value your innovation as much as our own. Saxton & Stump's Intellectual Property attorneys provide creative and effective legal solutions to clients by protecting their intellectual property to help them achieve their business goals. We represent a diverse roster of clients including entrepreneurs, startups, established companies, and multinational corporations. Our attorneys serve clients across an array of industries:

- Aerospace and defense
- Mechanical devices
- Electrical technology
- Industrial manufacturing
- Medical devices
- Customer products
- Telecommunications
- Transportation
- Chemical
- Robotics
- Heat transfer technology
- Additive manufacturing

The Intellectual Property Group at Saxton & Stump understands the law and technology. By working with Saxton & Stump, we will help your business define and protect its intellectual property assets to achieve optimal success in an ever-changing market. Our team is equipped to walk clients through the process of intellectual property matters, including the creation, implementation, transfers and litigation of patents, copyrights, trademarks, and trade secrets.

PROFESSIONAL AND TECHNICAL EXPERTISE

Members of our Intellectual Property Group have previous experience working as Patent Examiners for the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Our Intellectual Property attorneys are seasoned legal professionals -- many of whom are registered patent attorneys -- with decades of experience in local and global matters. They have counseled and defended the intellectual property assets of entities of all sizes, from entrepreneurs to Fortune 500 companies.

PATENTS

Protecting your invention from exploitation is one of our highest priorities. Our seasoned practitioners and licensed patent attorneys have experience handling all aspects of the patent process, from creation to litigation in the case of wrongdoing. By working with our team, you will receive guidance from attorneys who have formerly worked as Patent Examiners in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Our attorneys regularly handle:

- Patent prosecution and counseling in the U.S. and abroad in conjunction with a network of foreign associates
- Patent portfolio management
- Patent clearances
- Noninfringement and invalidity opinions

TRADEMARKS

A trademark allows a brand to establish a loyal customer base through the recognition of a logo or brand name. Dilution or infringement of a trademark can cause confusion between brands and, in some cases, could cost an organization its livelihood. We provide counseling and prosecution of trademark, trade name, and trade dress issues in the U.S. and abroad. We work with clients to formulate appropriate branding strategies, establish distinct trademarks to prevent ambiguity, and take proactive measures to protect your intellectual property assets from exploitation. We also offer additional services in trademark portfolio management and trademark clearance.

COPYRIGHTS

In an ever-evolving, technology-based world, we understand the importance of protecting your copyrighted material. Our attorneys are fully equipped to walk clients through the process of creating, obtaining, and registering traditional or multimedia copyrighted material. We regularly counsel clients on the fair use of copyrighted materials and how to prevent infringement of their own intellectual property assets.

PROTECTING YOUR INVENTION
OUR HIGHEST PRIORITIES.

TRADE SECRETS

A trade secret is an organization's unique leverage to achieve financial success. When a trade secret or confidential information is divulged to outside entities, whether intentionally or unintentionally, the results can be detrimental. We support clients in the preparation of confidentiality, non-analysis, non-compete, and consulting agreements.

IP AGREEMENTS

Our attorneys are experienced in creating appropriate and effective strategies for transactional matters including licensing and transfer of intellectual property assets. We support clients by advising, drafting, and negotiating all types of intellectual property agreements to aid you in meeting your business objectives, including licensing, joint development, joint venture and strategic alliance agreements. Our attorneys leverage their prior experience as in-house counsel to help guide you through complex business arrangements, including intellectual property, to best achieve your business goals.

IP LITIGATION

In the instance of exploitation, our attorneys are well-versed in litigation matters and will aggressively defend your intellectual property before state and federal courts and the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. We work as a team to construct a creative approach to help clients reach their business goals. We represent a diverse group of clients, from startups to large corporations.

Our attorneys have experience in litigation matters including the formulation of litigation strategies, witness selection and preparation, oral arguments, depositions, document production, and drafting legal memoranda and motions for various matters:

- Patent infringement
- Patent post grant proceedings
- Trademark and trade dress infringement
- Trademark oppositions
- Unfair competition and misappropriation of trade secrets
